

Two New Appointments Made -- Dean of Women and Placement Director

Spilecki Named Outstanding Senator -- Voted Senate President

Stan Spilecki

Last Friday a voice announced over the P. A. system of the Bryant Refectory the names of the winners of the Student Senate elections. Stanley Spilecki was chosen the new President of the Student Senate; Mathew Boland was named the new Vice-President; Mildred Quaranto became Secretary; and Paul Orsina was named as the new Treasurer.

Voting in the classroom by all the Bryant students climaxed a week of strenuous campaigning by all candidates. Most candidates for Student Senate offices placed colorful posters and photographs of themselves in the usual strategic points around the campus.

Some of the candidates used such unique campaign tactics as giving out pencils and matchbooks with campaign slogans imprinted on them. As a whole, the week before June 24 was a colorful and exciting one, as all the candidates went all-out to promote themselves and their running mates to the students of the College.

The out-going Student Senate officers, President Clifford McGinness, Vice President/Treasurer Linda Simmons, and Secretary Jennie Pizz, are confident that their successors will continue the work of promoting the interests of the student body of Bryant College.

Senate and Greek Letter Council Hold Semi-annual Banquet

By Linda Simmons

The semi-annual Student Senate-Greek Letter banquet was held at Cumberland Manor on June 29. As a highlight of the evening, Stanley Spilecki was presented with the Outstanding Senator of the Year award.

After the dinner, Clifford McGinness, outgoing president of the Student Senate awarded the first semester senators with a mug laugh suitably inscribed. The second semester senators were given certificates of recognition. Also awarded for their fine jobs were the Student Senate officers: Clifford McGinness, president; Linda Simmons, Vice-president; and Jennie Pizz, secretary.

President of the Greek Letter Council, Raymond Phillips, conducted the remainder of the meeting, giving awards to the retiring presidents of the fraternities and sororities which make up the Greek Letter Council. The outgoing presidents then introduced the new presidents of their respective groups. Other officers of the Greek Letter Council are Philanae Sarff, Secretary, and John Lagunovich, Vice President.

Student Chairman for the banquet was Linda Simmons. Serving on her committee were Dave Thompson and Tony Celuzza from the Senate and Tony Della Gratta and Milt Abrams for the Greek Letter Council.

Stan has been a hard worker in Senate for the past year. He has been the Chairman of the Library Committee and Freshman Orientation Program. He has worked for other committees so that the Senate could run smoothly.

Council Officers Receive Trophies At Dinner Banquet

by Janice Kaufman

Trophies were presented to the outgoing Dormitory Council officers at a recent banquet held at Ballard's Isle. Receiving trophies for outstanding service were Jim Baird, president; Bill Prokop, vice-president; and Helen Sarifanos, secretary-treasurer. Other members of the Council received certificates of appreciation.

Old and new dormitory presidents were invited to the banquet, where Mr. R. Lucien Appleby, Executive Secretary of Bryant, Miss Ann Corcoran, and Mr. James P. Berluti, Deans of Women and Men, respectively, were the guest speakers. Mrs. Lucien Appleby was also a guest. After the speeches, an informal question-and-answer period followed, which acquainted the dorm presidents with several of the new programs that are being planned for the College.

The program was then turned over to Wayne Pimental, incoming president of the Dormitory Council who expressed the thought that with the loyalty, support, and cooperation of the officers and members of the Council he hoped to have a successful year. Cast and crew of the play "John Loves Mary" presented by the members of Bryant's own Masquers. The members are as follows: First row from left to right, Michele Merola, Kathleen McCormick, Terry Shyne, and James Clemmy. The second row includes Professor Brooks, Eugene Caron, John Talcott, Maebeth Hanley, Dave Thompson, Joseph Noga, Algi Bell, Egonuele Proct, Richard Sancy, Gay Hart, and Anthony Porreca. ### Masquers Present "John Loves Mary"

By Mike Shelley

The Masquers of Bryant College thoroughly entertained their audience on June 27 by their presentation of the delightful comedy "John Loves Mary." At 8:30 the curtain rose after several musical numbers by Bryant's Stardusters, which are led by Mr. Ralph Handy.

Over 100 people were in attendance in spite of the heat, and even more were expected for the Wednesday night performance.

The cast did an exceptionally good job of acting. Thomas Shyne as Mary, James Clemmy as John, and Egonuele Proct as Senator McCormick gave outstanding perfor-ances in their various roles. Mr. David Brooks did a fine job of directing the cast and his excellent taste for showmanship was demonstrated throughout the whole show.

The play dealt with the problems of John Lawrence, who married a foreign girl as he could bring her into the United States for a friend of his, who at one time saved his life. But John found out that his friend was already married.

The girl John was in love with and had been waiting for the three years he was abroad, planned for their marriage upon his arrival in the United States. The different ways John avoided marrying Mary provided many laughs for the audience.

The other members of the cast included: Anthony Porreca . . . Oscar Dugan; David Thompson . . . Fred Taylor; Maebeth Hanley . . . Mrs. McKinley; Michele E. Merola . . .

Lt. Viktor O'Leary; Joseph R. Noga; George Beechwood; Kathleen McCormick . . .

Lily Herlish; Algi Bell . . . Harwood Middle. Other plans of the Masquers include a trip to the Warwick Musical Theater on Thursday, June 30, after a buffet at the Noga's home.

Gratuities vs. Speculations...

The current policy of extending economic aid in order to buy the allegiances of an under-developed country, or to keep the Soviets from buying or coercing it, is not practical. It has not worked and it cannot be made to work. A wondrous spirit of independence and pride has gripped not only the newly born nations but many of the older ones as well.

That spirit of independence—or nationalism, if you prefer—makes a doctrine of commitments to us, explicit or implicit, in return for our aid quite unrealistic and unworkable. These nations desire aid but they are now in no mood to take it on an exclusive basis—from either the West or the East.

Another defect in our current foreign aid policy is that we do not end up buying what we instinctively want: the friendship and trust of the whole people. What we get instead is a nice, cozy isolation with the top military, political, or economic stratas of the country. We have tended to help a dominant minority, rather than the people of a poor nation as a whole. This minority may or may not many times have been concerned only with helping themselves.

The final, and most fundamental defect in the current foreign aid program, is the betrayal of the great ideals of American tradition character for us to be out in the great international bazaar, bargaining, haggling, and making deals, by which we trade our money or credit or technical aid for "friendships."

Clearly, in developing a new policy must begin with a re-examination of our basic motives. It must begin with an answer to the central question, "Why do we extend foreign economic aid?"

Perhaps the most trustworthy guidepost as to why we should provide foreign assistance is our conscience, as a people, a matter of our own sense of values, our own idea of what is right and wrong for us as a people, our own idea of what is a decent kind of world in which we and our children can live.

A program of aid from which we ask nothing for ourselves in return could give the world a demonstration of the kind of people our system of political and economic freedom is capable of producing. By our example we would provide evidence of the creative power released in a human society by our practice of freedom of choice. We could provide an example by which the rapidly emerging nations of the world could weigh and judge the virtue of making increasing freedom for the individual—with justice for his neighbor—the cornerstone of their own evolving societies.

A Democrat Retorts

Many comments have been made of late which tend to place the blame for any adverse conditions in the country on the Democratic party.

I will agree that the Democrats have made their share of mistakes in the past few years. But let's not

Since the present administration took over in 1952 the foreign relations of the United States have become progressively worse. The general opinion of statesmen is that we in this country can help our underdeveloped friends better by practicing a "long-run" method of foreign aid. This means helping the countries with power projects, road building, irrigation dams, etc. All of these projects are not an immediate help to the majority of the people in these countries, although they definitely will be in the future.

The Russians, on the other hand, are practicing a "short-run" method of foreign aid. This means that the Reds are giving to the common people of these countries things that are of immediate help to them, such as seed for crops, cattle, etc. The help that the Russians are giving is directed toward the present needs of the people, and toward the common people of the nations. The people of these nations appreciate this more than they appreciate what the United States is doing for them.

The present administration is definitely lax in its foreign relations, and the majority of the blame can be laid on them.

One other point of conjecture can be summed up in a very few words. Who was in power when we suffered our serious recession? It wasn't the Democrats.

Student from Pakistan Likes U. S. and Bryant

by Dorothy Nieminen

As has been stressed before, the Placement Bureau will help anyone to get a position any place in the world. A good example of this is how the Placement Bureau is working with Asif Jah, a Bryant student from Lahore, Pakistan. Communications are going back and forth between the Placement Bureau and Pakistan now in an effort to locate a position in an American company in Pakistan where Asif can advance to a top management position.

For nine years Asif worked in the IBM section of the Arabian-American Oil Company in Saudi Arabia. During this time he saw a lot of American movies—sometimes three a week. Because of the movies he saw and because he was working in an American company, Asif got a great desire to come to the United States. One day when he was reading a magazine, he came across a Bryant College advertisement. That day he decided he was coming to the United States and attend Bryant. It took eighteen months to complete correspondence before Asif finally got to the United States. On the way over here Asif stopped in Rome, Frankfurt, and London.

Here at Bryant, Asif is majoring in Accounting. He will graduate in July, 1961.

When asked how he liked the United States, Asif answered: "There is something wrong with the guy who comes to this country and doesn't like it." He said he has found the people friendlier than he expected and that he has been given a warm welcome and has been treated with respect. Although he will miss the United States very

Asif says he would not like to live

Recent Books

The Thief in the White Collar
by Norman Jaspas with Hillel Black
By Richard Rogers

A more appropriate title for this tidbit would be, "The Not-So-White Collar." Apparently filching paper clips leads to bigger and better things, since Mr. Jaspas tells us that light-fingered employees steal about four million dollars from their employers everyday.

Case after case of till-tapping is cited, from hitting the petty cash box to full scale embezzling involving hundreds of thousands of dollars.

How does it happen that so many employees manage to set up their own charity fund? The chief reason seems to be employer apathy. It just doesn't seem possible that sweet, trustworthy old Gertie, the bookkeeper, would juggle the books. This may account for the fact that only ten to fifteen percent of the nation's manufacturers, etc., bother to bond their employees against theft.

The author, president of a consulting firm specializing in this type of problem, sums up his study with an excellent chapter on preventing such crimes.

in the United States.

It didn't take long for Asif to become accustomed to the United States because of the fact that he had worked in an American company. One thing that he finds hard, however, is remembering names. He said that the hardest thing across at Bryant was initiation into his fraternity, Phi Sigma Nu.

Besides English, Arabic, Persian, and Urdu, his native language.

Upon graduation, Asif plans to return to his family in Pakistan and get a job in another American company.

Triple Crown Race Run at Belmont

By Jim Tziouras

Two weeks ago last Saturday was the 92nd running of the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park. This race, the Belmont Stakes, was the last of the famous Triple Crown races for this season.

What is the Triple Crown? The Triple Crown is the name given to the three classic races run each season both here in the United States as well as in Great Britain. The Triple Crown in Great Britain is composed of the Epsom Derby, the Saint Leger Stakes, and the Two Thousand Guineas races; in the United States, it's the Kentucky Derby, The Preakness, and the Belmont Stakes.

The winning of all three races in either country by one horse is considered to be the highest mark of achievement. The last of the eight horses to win the American Triple Crown was Citation in 1949.

This year it was three different horses winning each of the three races. Venetian Way took the Kentucky Derby, while Bally Ashe, after finishing on the wrong end of Venetian Way in the Derby, romped away with the Preakness; and at Belmont Park it was Celtic Ash in the win.

Celtic Ash, carrying the green and gold silks of the Green Dwyer Farm, was ridden by Billy Hartack, who also rode Venetian Way to victory in the Kentucky Derby. It was a beautifully run race, with Billy Hartack holding Celtic Ash back until the half-mile pole and then turning him loose to drive from last place, catch the pack, and finish the race 3 1/2-lengths ahead of Venetian Way, the second place horse.

Billy Hartack, following orders, kept Celtic Ash in last position from the start of the race and until he reached the half-mile pole. At this point it looked like Celtic Ash would never catch the end of the pack, never mind the front; but Hartack, moving to the outside of the track, let him go—and he did.

Celtic Ash, still on the outside, caught the pack and started on by as though the other horses were standing still and pulled along side Venetian Way, the lead horse, with an eighth of a mile to go. There was no stopping Celtic Ash then as he passed Venetian Way and went under the wire with a 5 1/2-length lead and the $135,000-added.

Crowd of 6500 At Newport for Folk Festival

By Bob Fitzgerald

The second annual Newport Folk Festival started off slowly this year with a crowd of 2500 but picked up to 6500 Saturday night. The crowds listened to some of the greatest folk music to come out of the hills. The Brothers Four, who performed very well, more or less took the place of the Kingston Trio who appeared in last year's festival.

The best act was put on by Pete Seeger who sang a lumberjack song, at the same time swinging an ax at a log and showering photographers with flying chips. This was both amusing as well as entertaining. There was a great variety of music which was all very enjoyable: folk singers, Gospel singers, Hebrew singers, and both talented and untalented singers.

The festival was very quiet compared to last year's, both inside and out of the gates. The reason for this was that last year the Folk Festival followed right after Newport's great Jazz Festival. The Folk Festival had the crowd left over from the Jazz Festival which resulted in tremendous gatherings of people. All of Newport's police turned out to control the people outside the gates, but to their surprise there weren't any. The police were given no trouble from the fans.

The setting for both the Festival and Jazz Festival was very much the same as last year's. The stage was in the same place as it was last year, and the refreshment stands were located in the same vicinity.

Salisbury Holds Dinner Banquet

On June 14, Salisbury Hall held its dorm banquet at Ballards Lake. Lobster and steak were the meal choices. An award was presented to Mrs. Alice Nutall, housemother, for her help and cooperation in making the banquet possible. Linda Simmons, retiring dorm president, thanked the outgoing officers who are Andrea Jutra, vice-president, Nancy Niskanen, secretary, and Sheila Johnson, treasurer.

The new officers for the coming semester are Judy White, president, and Pat Hanusek, vice-president. The treasurer and secretary will be elected at the beginning of next year. The banquet was made possible through the sale of candy bars and through dues collection.

Beta Sig Scores 7 Wins, 4 Losses

By Bob Moody

Beta Sig had a successful season with seven wins and four losses. A six-game winning streak was the highlight of the season. Under the coaching of Dick Dorey, Beta's Athletic Director, the Beta won fought hard to regain a third place position. Randy Foster, who will take Dick's place, intends to carry on a job well done. David Needs, centerfielder, and Norm Stinchour, third base, have two of the highest batting averages of anyone competing in the league. The hurling of Art Alameda and the catching of Matt "Yogi" Perry were a valuable asset to the team.

Other brothers who participated in the baseball season were John Petracca, Don Gordon, John Henderson, and Dave Chipman.

Beta is losing a valuable player in July, Dick Davidson. Dick has played football, basketball, and baseball for Beta.

The brothers of Beta Sigma Chi would like to thank Bob Ballantine for his valuable assistance in coaching during the baseball season.

Jennie Receives Top Sister Award At Pledge Formal

by Janice Kaufman

At the Johnson's Humtucks restaurant last Saturday, Jennie Pizzo was presented with a trophy for the Most Outstanding Sister, after completing a successful year as president of Sigma Iota Beta, at SIB and BIB's recent pledge formal. Carlene Butler and Rita Hutchins received awards for athletic and scholastic achievement respectively. Rita's average was 4.222.

The general program consisted of installing the new members and new officers. Eli Cardarelli, incoming president, made the following appointments to her Executive Board: Judy Cboinsky, community service chairman; Linda Bram, sergeant at arms; Jeanne Relisle, chaplain; Rae Soldano, social chairman, and Lynn McGough, Archway reporter.

Former officers received guard pins that were representative of their officers. All the girls were proud to present their advisor, Miss Carolyn Gerilli, with a gold circle pin, on which was mounted a sorority pin and gavel.

A good time was had by all, and each couple received an inscribed brandy sniffer as a favor.

Over 150 Attend A O X Banquet

By E. Profaci

Over 150 Brothers, Sisters, Pledges and guests attended Alpha Theta Chi's Pledge Formal. At the banquet which took place in the Garden Room at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel, Providence, the new officers and pledges took their oaths to the fraternity.

Last Sunday the Brothers and Sisters (DEX) joined together to give the Mount Pleasant Home orphans a picnic at Lincoln Woods. Everyone had a wonderful time playing ball, swimming, and EATING!

The Brothers of Alpha Theta Chi are anxiously awaiting the Community Service results. They all have high hopes.

The softball team is still in there fighting. The Brothers anticipate a happy ending with the teamwork being developed.

After the banquet and dance there was a get-together at the home of one of the brothers for the Sisters of Zeta and the Brothers of A. O. A pleasant evening was had by all who attended. This pledge formal will be remembered for many years to come.

However, the best part of the evening was the presence of Mr. Albert E. Farkenton, Advisor for Alpha Omicron. His short speech was inspiring and enlightening to all present, and the Sisters of Zeta and the Brothers of A. O. will remember his words and try to abide by them.

Teacher Trainees Enjoy Barbecue

By Ronald Crane

Miss (Pat) Payette gave a party for teacher-training students on Saturday night, June 18. Miss Payette was the hostess to thirty people at her brother's home in Warwick.

The activities began at 8 o'clock in the evening with cocktails being served to the guests, and for those that did not care to have cocktails, plenty of soda.

The main event of the evening was a barbecue which began at 9 o'clock and lasted two hours. The array of food was spectacular, consisting of hamburgers, hotdogs, potato salad, cole slaw, home made beans, and various cheese dips, pickles, crackers, cookies, and fruit. After this toasted marshmallows were served to the guests.

For those who wanted a little recreation after eating there was badminton, and the people just want to sit around and talk.

Every one who came had a wonderful time, and when the party broke up in the early hours of the morning everyone complimented Miss Payette and her wonderful family for a wonderful evening.

Beta Iota Beta's newly elected slate plans to work hard along with the co-operation of the brothers in making the coming semester another successful one.

Beta Iota Beta and Sigma Iota Beta had a very enjoyable Alumni Weekend. On Friday, June 3, they attended the party at Roger Williams Casino. On Saturday, June 4, a party, together with the Alumni, was held in East Providence. Movies of the May Queen Dance were shown at this time. On Sunday, June 4, a picnic was held at Lincoln Woods. Between playing softball and throwing water-shy brothers and sisters into the lake, an enjoyable time was had by all.

Beta Iota Beta and Sigma Iota Beta are planning to give their graduating Seniors a going-away picnic. Those graduating from BIB are Bob Grinold, Bob Danis, and Charlie Terrell. BIB will miss these three brothers and the hard work they contributed during their brotherhood of BIB at Bryant. Charlie Terrell, an active brother, has been Treasurer of BIB for the past two semesters. Bob Danis, who has been in BIB for four years, and Bob Grinold, for two years, both have been hard workers and active brothers. The work from each of these brothers has been appreciated by the brothers of BIB.

Beta Iota Beta's softball team is still in there fighting. Unfortunately, they will not place in the finals. But credit still goes to the team for their hard playing and fine sportsmanship.

Sigma Lambda Pi was represented on the softball field by top hitters, Mal Goldenberg, Bob Hyer, and Jack Dominice. This season the players showed wonderful sportsmanship on the field.

Homeowners Warned by Vets Chief

Hundreds of Rhode Island GI homeowners are exposing themselves to later financial liability when they sell their homes subject to their GI mortgage without requiring that the purchaser be approved by the Veterans Administration.

John L. Reavey, manager of VA's Providence office revealed this week that during last month alone VA was notified that more than 100 such property transfers took place where the veteran had not asked VA to release him from liability.

Reavey said that VA can release from subsequent liability to the government those veterans who sell their homes subject to the existing GI mortgage provided the new purchaser meets the credit requirements of VA.

The new purchaser, who need not be a veteran, must assume all of the veteran's obligations to the government on the GI loan.

Government guaranty of the loan is not affected by releasing the veteran from his liability. The new purchaser merely assumes the veteran's liability on the guaranty.

Release of the veteran from GI loan liability to the government does not automatically restore his GI home loan entitlement. Reavey said restoration of entitlement may be made only under certain conditions, one of which is that the loan be paid in full. Information is available at the VA Regional Office, 100 Fountain Street, Providence, R. I., the VA Office, 757 Pleasant Street, New Bedford, Mass., and the VA Office, 144 North Main Street, Manchester, N. H.

Awards Presented At SIB-BIB Formal And Installation

By Don Stapon

On June 25, Beta Iota Beta and Sigma Iota Beta held their Pledge Formal at Johnson Hummock's restaurant in Providence. Twelve pledges of BIB were sworn in as brothers, and the newly elected officers were sworn in for the coming semester.

The evening started out with the formal initiation which began at 6:30 p.m. BIB was pleased to have the following accepted as brothers: John Consolini, Richard Bey, Charles Turner, Manny Gorriarian, Webb Goodwin, Doug Emery, Steve Brunner, Chris Bast, Don Allen, Jim Bromley, Brian Terhune, and Roger Tansey.

After the initiation, a delicious dinner was served. After dinner, speeches were given by the President's elected officers were sworn in, and trophies were awarded as follows:

Trophy ..... Webb Goodwin
George Cain Memorial
Trophy ..... Charlie Terrell
Athletic Trophy .... Tony Perrini
Scholastic Trophy .. Charlie Terrell

The George Cain Memorial Trophy is given to the brother who has contributed the most to the fraternity during his brotherhood at Bryant. Charlie fully deserves this trophy for his conscientious work as Treasurer for two semesters.

A trophy was awarded to "Boots" Bromwell for the great job he did as President for the past semester. The brothers can count on "Boots" for another well-done job this coming semester when he will once again serve as President of the fraternity.

Trophies were also awarded to the outgoing Seniors who participated in sports of BIB while attending Bryant. There was a great surprise when the last trophy was awarded. This went to Phil Perlman for his help during the basketball finals. For those who don't remember, Phil was taken ill during the start of the finals. He could not participate in the first game against Tau Epsilon. Phil was able to play in the second half of the second game and literally was the spark that helped BIB win that game. Phil also played in the tight and hard-fought third game.

After the trophies were awarded, music was provided for dancing.

BIB would like to congratulate their popular sister sorority SIB for winning the basketball and bowling championships. They are also well on their way toward taking the softball championship.

On June 24, BIB and SIB held a Senior Party for their outgoing Seniors. The close relationship that always exists between BIB and SIB contributed to another successful and enjoyable time.

Kappa Tau Elects Bob Kendrot

By Steve Firmender

The brothers of Kappa Tau held their bi-monthly meeting on June 1 when they elected the following officers:

President ..... Bob Kendrot
1st Vice Pres. ... Steve Firmender
2nd Vice Pres. .... Peter Ruzila

Treasurer ..... Alan Cohen
Sergeant-at-Arms ..... John Shea
Athletic Dir. .... Howie Redstone
Chaplain ..... Edward Martin
Historian ..... Richard Macomber
Alumni Secretary .... Dick Lamke

On June 11, Kappa Tau and Alpha Phi Kappa held their pledge formal at The Fakstaff. The proceedings were appropriately begun by a prayer by one of the brothers. After a fine dinner the brothers of KT and the sisters of APK listened to an address from KT's advisor, Mr. Yorks.

The momentous part of the evening was the presentation of trophies. For two hours, four trophies signifying special recognition for deserving brothers had been retained on the head table. Within a matter of minutes the presentations were made, and the anxiety that prevailed before was no more. The brothers of Kappa Tau who received the trophies were Dick Lamke, Best Pledge; Howie Redstone, Sportsmanship; "Angie" Forgetta, Spirit; Peter Ruzila, Initiative.

Upon completion of the presentation of trophies, Kappa Tau's new President, Bob Kendrot, was sworn into office. President Kendrot then presented outgoing President John Lagunowich with a suitably inscribed gavel from the brothers of Kappa Tau in recognition of his service during the semester.

Trophies were presented to the past year's officers, Carolyn Lamkin, Secretary, and Elizabeth Walenda, Treasurer. Elizabeth Walenda newly elected president, then awarded the outgoing president with a trophy.

O. who have done outstanding work this year in working for the fraternity. A pleasant surprise for the Sisters occurred when each Sister of the Sorority was given a bracelet by the Fraternity as a memento of the past year's work.

A gavel was later presented to the incoming President Betty Walenda by the Pledge Class of 1960. The gavel is to be passed on from president to president in the coming years.

Sigma Iota Chi News

By Edith Penkala

As another semester nears an end, the sisters of Sigma Iota Chi have found their schedules busier than ever. In addition to the final whirlwind of tests, there have been numerous activities to keep the girls on their toes.

The softball team has been doing extremely well, thanks to the cooperation of all the girls. The pitching of Barbara Radginski deserves special mention, for she has been in there pitching for every game, and doing a good job striking players out. So far there has been only one low spot in the team's record. That was the game the Sigmas lost to S. I. B. by a score of 19 to 7. The game started out fine, but the girls were shaken by the unfortunate collision with an S. I. B. girl that caused second baseman Brenda Patterson to receive a broken collar bone. The girls redeemed themselves, though, by defeating Phi Upsilon 14 to 11. From the looks of it, S. I. C. will be right on top when the playoffs come around.

On June 15 S. I. C.'s pledges became first degree members of Beta Theta chapter in a solemn ceremony held at 141 Williams St. After a waiting period during which the sisters will be aware of the actions and attitudes of the pledges, these girls will be eligible to receive their Third Degree, which will make them full-fledged sisters of S. I. C.

The annual banquet and installation of officers was held on June 22 at The Rome Restaurant. All the girls enjoyed a delicious dinner after witnessing the candlelight ceremony of installation. All the Big Sisters received delicate gold compacts decorated with a raised crest of the sorority from their Little Sisters. They were also presented with the traditional paddles; the graduating sisters received this last gift gratefully, but not until the Little Sisters had (at last!) their chance to get their revenge. Shades and memories of Hell Week!

The girls who became Third Degree sisters in February received their official certificates. S. I. C.'s advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Weaver, was presented with a special gift from the sorority as a token of appreciation for her help and guidance.

Sig. Lambda Officers Installed on June 20

by Vera Spoto

The sisters of Sigma Lambda Theta held their Installation Banquet at Johnson's Hummocks on June 20, 1960. After dinner, the following officers were installed:

President, Terry Skype; Vice-President, Sylvia Silva; Secretary, Barbara Levin; Treasurer, Connie Dennis; Assistant Treasurer, Joann Cromack; Chaplain, Terry Simonelli; Sergeant at Arms, Maureen Carroll; Alumni Secretary, Donna Solodyna; Archway Representative and Publicity Director, Vera Spoto; Activities Chairman and Athletic Director, Connie Biakiewicz.

The outgoing officers were presented with trophies. All the sisters thanked Marilyn Strine for being such a conscientious and devoted president for the past two semesters.

The climax of the evening came when Marilyn Strine presented the Most Outstanding Sister award to Terry Skype.

Mrs. Mona Fink was installed as an Theta pin from Marilyn Strine.

Theta conducted a very successful chocolate sale. Every sister worked hard to make the sale a huge success.

Theta and Beta had a very enjoyable week end at their cottage by the shore in Jerusalem.

New Pension Laws Benefit Children

Some 1,900 minor children of deceased Rhode Island veterans and thousands of Rhode Island widows of veterans of World War II and Korea stand to benefit from the new veterans pensions law that becomes effective July 1, according to John L. Reavey, manager of VA's Providence office.

In suggesting that custodians and guardians of these minor children now on the VA pension rolls explore benefits under the new law, Reavey said, "There is no instance in which election of the new law will prove disadvantageous to a minor child."

The new law raises the limit on income from other sources for children from $1500 to $1800 per year and excludes as income any money earned by the child, either as wages or from self-employment, Reavey said.

He pointed out that pension rates for children are higher under the new law and gave as an example a child receiving $27.30 per month under the present law who can receive $35.00 a month under the new law.

Where there are two children each receiving $20.47 per month under the present law, the rate becomes $25.00 a month for each child if the new law is elected.

As a further protection to minor children, Reavey said, the VA will not accept an election of the new law if a child's net worth would have pension payments. In that case, the child would be retained under provision of the present law which does not take net worth into consideration.

Widows and children of veterans of World War II or Korea who have been ineligible for pension under the present law may become eligible on July 1 due to two changes, he said. First, the former requirement that the deceased veteran have a service-connected disability at the time of his death has been eliminated from the new law and, second, limitations on income from other sources have been raised.

The allowable annual income for a widow alone has $1400 to $1800 while that for a widow with a child has been increased from $2700 to $3000.

More living veterans of both World Wars and Korea, and additional widows of veterans of World War I will become eligible for pension under the new law owing to a

Bilimore, Scene of Delta Sigma Chi Pledge Banquet

By Joan Calderwood

On Thursday, June 23, the Stoughton-Biltmore was host to the Pledge Banquet of Delta Sigma Chi and Alpha Theta Chi. Chicken or veal cutlet was the choice on the menu for the evening. Each dish was equally delicious.

After the AOX's installation of officers, presentation of awards, and initiation of pledges, the program was turned over to DEX president Vivian Bonneau. The five pledges solemnly took their oath pledging their allegiance and loyalty to Delta Sigma Chi sorority. They were Ruth Broderick, Louise Banks, Pat Bixler, Julie Caluro, and Nancy Garfield.

Mrs. Leavitt Brooks and Mrs. Paul Russell, Delta's advisors, were given certificates of honorary membership in the sorority. They were also given gift for the fine work they have done for the sorority throughout the semester.

Shelia Brightman and Muriel Rioux were also given certificates of honorary membership in the sorority for their untiring work through the semester.

After trophies and plaques were awarded to outgoing officers, Judy DeLorenzo solemnly took her oath of office as president for the coming semester. Judy then presented a trophy to Bob Major, coach of the sorority softball team, in appreciation for all the hard work he has put into the team. Elaine Peters received a trophy for being outstanding girl in the sorority throughout the semester. This was the first time that a trophy of this type was ever given, and it went to a most deserving girl.

After all presentations and installations were completed, dancing began to the music of Ralph Stuart and his orchestra.

Delta Sigma Chi ended its softball season with a smashing victory over Phi Upsilon, 20-5.

Comp Time

Formula for Failure

DULUTH, MINN. — (ACP) —

The STATESMAN, published at the University of Minnesota's Duluth Branch, recently picked this series of helpful hints from the University of Manitoba paper. All of these are designed to help the student attain failing grades.

Do not bother with a textbook. Remind yourself frequently how dull the course is.

If you must study, try to lump it together and get it over with. The most suitable time is the last week of school.

Have a few friends handy during study periods so that you can chat when bored.

Stay up all night before finals. You can spend the first half of the evening discussing your determination to cram and the latter half drinking coffee or whatever your taste prefers.

Write your examinations rapidly. Glance at the questions and then put down your first impressions.

Remember that success in life is your main aim and never let extraneous matters such as grades interfere with this objective.

similar several-hundred dollar increase in the amount of other income permitted.

Under the new law the maximum paid has been increased, and pension rates are keyed to the amount of income the pensioner has from other sources.

Pensioners now on the VA rolls, Reavey explained, are a shade of eligible for the new law, or remaining under provisions of the old law.
